

Worksheet 9d 27.4.-30.4.20

Dear 9d,

Today we start with Unit 3. It's all about science, space and stuff like that. I hope you like it.

By the way: I know that it's not easy to do all the tasks for school on your own and being kind of alone all the time. I want to say that I am proud of you because I believe you work and try hard. Thank you for that!

Let's go!

3. If you want to have feedback on your text, please send it 😊

2) Dictation

I had the wonderful idea to give you the chance to check if you have learned to vocab of Unit 2 properly and write a short dictation with you. So when you have the possibility to do it, take out your exercise book and a pen. The headline is "Dictation Unit 2". Listen to the recording "DictationU2".

3) Vocabulary time!

Please learn the words up to "lunar module" p. 129 and write them into your vocabulary book. You can learn them with me as I have recorded them for you "Vocabp.129".

4) Unit 3 Words and pictures p. 37

You can read the text if you like, but I think it's not very interesting. A bit more interesting are the youtube clips you find here:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=s5HFczUHbDk>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=asaxR98kX4g>

And if you want to find out more you can have a look at the museum's website:

<https://www.sciencemuseum.org.uk>

Who still wonders what the difference engine does: it is a machine for long and complicated calculations.

5) Read Sit. 1 p. 38

You might have realized that the passive is used quite a lot in this short text. So that is the grammar topic for this week: Revising the passive voice.

I want you to read p. 106 in your textbooks. There you find the rules again in case you might have forgotten them 😊.

Very helpful can be the following youtube tutorial: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nkAygqAM1q4>

Here you find a very explanation of the passive voice. Please skip the ads and of course you don't need to subscribe anything! One more thing to add: she talks about the "past simple" that is of course our "simple past".

6) Exercises

Practise the passive with the following exercises: textbook p. 38 ex. 1+2 and practise the new words with the exercises: workbook p. 21 ex. 1+2.

OK, that's it for this week!

See you!
