Yesterday evening I was walking down Mayfield Road in Edinburgh when I found a phone on the street. I stopped and looked at it. At first I didn't know what to do. While I was thinking, the phone suddenly started to make a strange noise.

Somebody was phoning. I answered the phone and a young man told me that it was his phone.

He asked me where I was. Then he told me to stay there. After ten minutes he came to Mayfield Road and I gave him his phone. He was very happy and I went home.
